

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Crusader Traffic Ltd Statement

Introduction

The EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) comes into effect on 25th May 2018 and replaces the current EU and UK Data Protection laws. GDPR introduces increased data protection rights for individuals and gives them a greater say in how, where, when and why their personal data is processed, collected and stored.

GDPR impacts the way organisations process personal data and requires organisations to demonstrate compliance with the Regulation and to design processes and systems that protect individual's data privacy.

Crusader Traffic Ltd's commitment

At Crusader Traffic Ltd, we have always honoured our customers', suppliers' and employees' right to data protection and privacy. We are committed to complying with the current UK Data Protection Act and we are working hard to be compliant with GDPR before the 25th May implementation date.

How is Crusader Traffic LTD preparing for GDPR?

We started preparing for GDPR in 2017. As a company with 250 or less employees we understand our requirements and obligations under GDPR. As 'best practice', whilst we are not required to register with ICO we will continue to comply with the requirements relevant to an organization of our size.

Some of the ongoing activities are:

- Identifying personal data –undertaking data inventories and processing audits to determine the exact nature of how personal data is processed, collected and stored. We are detailing how personal data enters, flows through, and where applicable leaves the organisation
- Enhancing existing technical and organisational security measures - our IT team is looking to review and build on the existing security controls to ensure data protection by design and by default are at the heart of our systems and processes
- Visibility and transparency - our privacy policies and documentation are being reviewed and updated to be compliant with GDPR.
- Supplier assessments – any supplier processing personal data on behalf of Crusader Traffic Ltd will be assessed to ensure compliance with GDPR.
